

Ethics: Managing Personal and Organizational Ethical Challenges

For psychologists, behavioral health and licensed mental health professionals

This program will review several clinical cases with a focus on increasing skills in managing potential ethical challenges, both internal and external. We'll discuss how your own cognitive and emotional processes can support ethical practice or contribute to increased risk. In addition, we'll talk about how learning to manage your relationship with your manager and negotiating organizational demands can be a source of support or challenge in your clinical work.

OBJECTIVES

1. Describe three internal sources (within the provider) of potential ethical challenge.
2. Describe three external sources (interaction between the provider and environment) of potential ethical challenge.
3. Describe a method of identifying potential threats to good ethical behavioral health care before they become a defensive practice challenge.

LOCATION

Zoom Webinar

COST

No fee to attend this training.

Thursday, January 15, 2026
8:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. noon (Central)

CONTINUING EDUCATION

INSTRUCTIONAL LEVEL: Intermediate

This training is approved for 3.75 CE credits for psychologists,* Nebraska LIMHP/LMHP, and Nebraska LADCs. Credits will be awarded to participants who attend the entire training.

*Continuing education for psychologists may be used by other licensed behavioral health professionals. Please check with your licensing board. Continuing education credit is granted on a one credit per one instructional hour basis.

The University of Nebraska Public Policy Center (NUPPC) is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor

SPONSORS

Sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services Division of Behavioral Health and the University of Nebraska Public Policy Center.

This training is funded in whole by funds from state funds subgranted from the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Behavioral Health.

REGISTER ONLINE

go.unl.edu/reg_ethics2026

MARK LUKIN

PhD, Licensed Psychologist

Dr. Lukin is a licensed psychologist with broad experience working with state agencies, non-profit, corporate, and University clients with a specialty in forensic work. He has a long-standing interest in ethics (his doctoral focus area at the University of Missouri) and has served on the Nebraska Board for Psychology. He has taught and provided supervision at the University level since the 1980's. Mark is currently a staff psychologist at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln (UNL) Counseling and Psychological Services.

The speaker certifies that they have no affiliations with or involvement in any organization or entity with any financial interest or non-financial interest in the subject matter or materials presented in this training.