Partner Highlight

A longtime partner of the Public Policy Center, the Lancaster County Adult Drug Court, has been named to the exclusive list of national mentor treatment courts by the National Association of Drug Court Professionals (NADCP) and the U.S. Department of Justice. To celebrate the distinction of joining nine other mentor courts across the country, the Lancaster County Adult Drug Court will receive an award during a meeting of the Lancaster County Board of Commissioners on Tuesday, April 5, 2022.

"It is a great honor to recognize this court as one of only 10 mentor courts in the country," said NADCP Chief of Training and Research Carolyn Hardin. "This program is a shining example of how a combination of accountability and treatment can save lives, reunite families, and make the community safer. As a mentor court, this program is helping to transform our justice system and leading countless people who might otherwise be incarcerated into lives of long-term recovery." Read more.

Student Highlight

We are proud to announce that one of the University of Nebraska Public Policy Center's outstanding undergraduate research assistants, Aline Abayo, has been selected as one of 13 new Junior Fellows in a nationwide competition to intern at the Carnegie Endowment. Her project, "Effects of Changing Rainfall Patterns on Soil Nutrients and Crop Yield," also received support from the Undergraduate Creative Activities and Research Experiences program.
